

September 16, 2020

As we welcome students back to campus, below are a few updates that will help to prepare for a smooth transition.

- Student Health Screening: Before coming to campus, we ask parents/caregivers to use the screening questions referenced in the RUSD School Reopening Guidance document (linked here) on page 10.
- Face coverings: Face coverings must be used in accordance with CDPH guidelines, particularly in indoor environments, on school buses, and areas where physical distancing alone is not sufficient to prevent disease transmission. Please see more details here.
- What happens if a student or staff has symptoms or tests positive with COVID-19? Updated 9/18/20-- RUSD will follow Placer County Public Health and Placer County Office of Education current recommendations outlined here. You can view the latest guidance from the Placer County Office of Education here.
- What is the latest regarding COVID-19 testing for students? The Placer County Public Health Office and the Placer County Office of Education have arranged for COVID-19 testing. See more information for students here.
- Talk with your kids: Please remind your kids to talk with you if they don't feel well. Also please remind them about the importance of hand washing, physical distancing and wearing required face coverings. This is not going "back to school" in a way we ever imagined, so it's very important that we all use extra patience, kindness and respect.

We are grateful for our team of educators and staff for their hard work and preparation for this next step in our school year. We would also like to thank you, our families, for your flexibility and engagement over the last several months.

Sincerely,

Roger Stock

Superintendent
